CITY OF
RUTLAND, VERMONT

This Annual Report of the
City of Rutland is Dedicated to

MARY C. and JOHN J. GIORGETTI

The 1998 Annual Report of the City of Rutland is dedicated to Mary and John Giorgetti. John is remembered for planning and building some of Rutland's finest neighborhoods, including Stratton Estates east of Stratton Road. John J. Giorgetti Park, in the Pine Hill area, bears his name because it was through John's efforts as a member of the State Lands Committee in 1971 that these forty acres were given to the city for this purpose. The park was dedicated in 1976, and the Giorgetti Building opened in August of 1977.

John Giorgetti passed away at the age of 77 in December 1987. Through the continued generosity of Mary, his wife, and through his estate, the city was able to purchase a new ice resurfacing machine, a 'dasher-board' system (replacing the railings at the rink), pave the parking lot and make numerous other improvements at the Giorgetti Building. Mary has also been instrumental in the Capital Campaign to upgrade the facilities at the College of St. Joseph the Provider.

Whether by building fine neighborhoods, providing for parks or offering philanthropic gifts to enhance recreational and educational facilities, John and Mary Giorgetti have elevated the quality of life for generations of Rutlanders. This Annual Report is dedicated in recognition of the vision and generosity of Mary C. and John J. Giorgetti.

CITY OF RUTLAND
TAX RATES

Mayor's Message

Jeff Wennberg, Mayor

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and the Citizens of Rutland

This marks the twelfth and final time I offer this report to the citizens of Rutland as your mayor. I am pleased to report that the fiscal year ending June thirtieth was marked by a strengthening economy and continued progress in our downtown redevelopment program. Of note are the facts that Wal*Mart is reportedly meeting or exceeding sales projections after their first full year in operation AMTRAK is outperforming ridership projections and downtown retail vacancies are becoming scarce as hen's teeth.

Taxes for the fiscal year beginning July first, 1997 increased $57.50 on a $100,000 house, nearly all of the increase going to streets. All but ten dollars of that was returned the following year with a $47.50 tax cut. This reduction was the result of the new state education funding law, Act 60. From this point forward Rutland City school taxes will be set by the state, and school budgets which were formerly within the jurisdiction of the school board (up to the voter-approved charter-limited tax rate), will now be approved in accordance with the general laws of the State of Vermont. This means that Rutlanders will annually vote on the school budget like the citizens of nearly every other town in Vermont.

Property tax relief under Act 60 has not lived up to the promises of its proponents. Even when we include the prebate, or 'income sensitivity' relief, only 2,260 Rutland households, or about a third, actually applied. Roughly half of these will see a dollar for dollar reduction in their traditional 'rebate' payment, resulting in no new property tax relief. Approximately one-sixth of our households actually received 'income sensitive' tax relief under Act 60, and the majority of those were in the $47,000 to $75,000 household income range.

When the state budget surpluses are no longer available to bail out Act 60, the pressure to increase the state property tax will be irresistible. And given the incentives for school spending under this law we can expect dramatic increases in the demand for these dollars. Real property tax relief will have to wait for the repeat of Act 60, and its replacement with a new, non-property tax funding source for our schools. Between now and then a rough ride for schools and taxpayers alike can be expected.

Given that this is my final annual report message, I think it is appropriate to take a longer look back and put into perspective what has been accomplished.

Since 1987, Rutland City government has shrunk nineteen percent from 207 full time employees to 168. Nearly all departments have been cut. The Department of Public Works has been reduced 37%, from 78 to 57 employees. This includes a reduction in supervisory personnel from 10 to 6.

Those budgets that are within the jurisdiction of the mayor and board of aldermen have, on average, grown at a rate less than inflation throughout this twelve-year period. The General Government budget, which includes police, fire, recreation, treasurer, clerk, building and zoning, attorney, mayor, aldermen, purchasing, assessor and emergency management is controlled by an eighty-five-cent tax rate limit. When this limit was adopted ten years ago, it was anticipated that it would provide sufficient funds for about three years, at which time an increase would be needed. We have funded these services within this limit not for three, but ten years.

The Grand List is one-one hundredth of their fair market value of taxable property, upon which the tax rate is applied to generate our revenues. If property values are increasing, tax revenues can increase without raising tax rates. Since the last reappraisal in 1988, the Grand List has grown from $6,658,649 to $6,966,733, or 4.6% over ten years. This is less than one-half of one percent per year, which means that the nearly flat tax rate over this decade was achieved primarily through reduced costs and increased efficiency.

The City also encountered extraordinary challenges along the way. The bankruptcy of the owner of the former trash incinerator, VICON, left the city in the lurch for more than one million dollars in unpaid taxes and fees. This was litigated up to the U.S. Supreme Court, who, by refusing to hear the case, let stand an appeals court ruling denying the city the ability to recover these taxes. During the four years the case worked its way through the courts, we set aside sufficient funds to absorb this loss without a financial crisis or even a tax increase.

I would be remiss if I did not recognize the contribution of City Treasurer Ron Graves and his staff. Your financial affairs are entrusted to extremely capable hands, and the achievement of doing more with less would have been impossible without Ron's insight and judgement.

With the aid of 7,000 signatures on a petition, we fought Vermont's unfair policy of funding state highway maintenance in towns - but not in cities. As a result, we got Woodstock Avenue and Main Street repaired with state transportation funds and minimal property tax impact.

We met the challenge posed by an out-of-state youth gang by empowering the whole community to recognize the threat, and then proactively responded to the needs of our young people.

We dramatically improved the safety and quality of our drinking water by constructing a new water filtration plant, yet kept water rates below the average for Vermont communities. We improved the quality of water in Otter Creek by upgrading our sewage treatment plant, and with our new sewage treatment capacity we have enabled renewed growth at Killington - and created a significant source of new revenues for the city.

Following a great deal of debate, we enacted, enforced and defended a public indecency ordinance and thereby reversed the establishment of a nude dance club industry in downtown.

We gradually quintupled our spending on streets maintenance, and have thereby significantly reduced the number of substandard streets.

Despite being downsized from 44 to 37 sworn officers, the police department has improved dramatically since the creation of the police commission. The ten years of solid leadership under chiefs Bossi and Holmes have been marked by a reduction in both crime and controversy. Overall, crime is down 10% since 1987. So-called 'serious crime', such as homicide, rape, robbery, assault and auto theft, is down 18% over this same period.

Thanks to the energetic leadership of Chief Shelley, our fire department will enter the new century well prepared to meet its new challenges with the excellence and professionalism Rutlanders have come to expect. And the department's fire prevention efforts have met with success and demonstrated by the remarkable record of only one fire-related fatality in the last eleven years.

Safer buildings are the primary responsibility of our building inspector. Rutlanders have been fortunate to have Jim Simonds serving as building inspector and zoning administrator for the last seven years. Under his aggressive, common sense leadership, dozens of dangerous buildings have been renovated or demolished over this period. This is the main reason we have not experienced the raccoon rabies problem seen in other urban Vermont communities.

And despite woefully inadequate facilities, the folks in our department of recreation and parks, under the able and dedicated leadership of Superintendent Leif Dahlin, continue to provide a remarkable array of programs and services for everyone from infants to octogenarians. It is through their efforts that your city enriches the quality of our lives.

After years of negotiations, we sold an easement to protect our watershed, its wildlife habitat and the Appalachian Trail. These twelve hundred acres will remain wild in perpetuity – offering generations of Rutlanders yet-unborn the chance to appreciate this natural resource. And the $400,000 we received for these easements will help enable the city to insure safe, affordable high quality drinking water into the future.

We have built miles of sidewalks, planted thousands of trees, supported the arts, encouraged our youth, inspired our seniors and strengthened our neighborhoods. And we have accomplished all of this with fewer people and, after inflation, less money than we had twelve years ago.

The main subject of these messages in the past has been the progress of redevelopment program. The credit for the success of this effort can be rightfully claimed by nearly every citizen of Rutland. But special thanks must be directed to a few key people, starting with Redevelopment Authority Director Matthew Sternberg, Barbara Allen and the members of the redevelopment authority board, who have not only "worked the details" to keep things on track, but also seized opportunities and anticipated pitfalls along the way.

My first Community Development Director, Jay Shack, was perhaps the first to articulate the vision of restoring Rutland to her rightful place as the retail and commercial hub of southern Vermont. Jeff Nichols, Tom Webb and Bob Young from CVPS; Mary Means and Ernie Hutton, our 'Share the Vision' consultants; the late Bob Mitchell; Bob Rechner from NET Property Management; Marc Boucher and Neil Golub of Price Chopper; Senators Jim Jeffords and Pat Leahy; Larry Dreier and everyone at The Bus; John Russell, Jr.; Damian Zamias; The Vermont Agencies of Transportation and Commerce; Governor Tom Salmon;

Mark Foley; Paul Bruhn of the Preservation Trust; The Community College of Vermont; the folks at Wal*Mart, TJ Maxx, Cinema North and the people at AMTRAK—every one played a pivotal role in one or more aspects of our success.

Special thanks go out to the original and continuing members of the Rutland Partnership, Dick Courcelle, and his staff. The program could not have succeeded without the continuous encouragement and enthusiasm of the majority of downtown property owners and businesses.

Finally, my deepest personal thanks to the members of the board of aldermen, past and present. Without your hard work, great ideas and steady confidence we could not have sustained the course which has now been proven the right one.

So here is a synopsis of what has been accomplished thus far: we have attracted more than $40 million in public and private investment, created more than 600 new jobs, dramatically increased retail activity including the state's largest supermarket, a nine screen cinema and the nation's first downtown Wal*Mart store, initiated daily AMTRAK service to New York and constructed a new rail passenger terminal, constructed a new transit center and 628 car parking garage through the transit district, constructed a new downtown park for concert goers, farmers markets and ice skaters and attracted the construction of a 120,000 square foot state office building.

Still in the works are the restoration of the Paramount as a live performance theater, expansion of the U.S. Post Office and perhaps even a downtown hotel.

I want to thank the city employees who work so hard to make Rutland the best it can be. It has been a privilege to work with such a fine group of people – who rarely get the credit they properly deserve.

Please also take a moment to review the names listed under the various boards and commissions a few pages further into this report. These volunteers serve the city in numerous vital ways, taking time away from their work or families to make our community a better place. Their efforts are indispensable to the proper operation of this government, and we are all in their debt.

Finally, I want to thank the citizens of Rutland who have entrusted me with this office for the past twelve years. I have done my best to justify your trust, and leave with a powerful sense of gratitude for allowing me to know this community as only your mayor can. Be assured that your reservoir of civic pride is justifiably full, for through your compassion and industry has been created the finest community in America.

Report of the President of the Board of Aldermen

John P. Cassarino, President

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland

A review of the past twelve months reveals it as a year of steady progress and accomplishment with many eagerly awaited goals soon to be completed.

The multi-modal transit center slowly rose in the midst of our downtown and we now look forward to its opening and the lessening of parking congestion. The railroad passenger terminal will also soon be a reality. The rail passenger service has been expanded and expansion of its route is in the planning stages.

It is encouraging to note that the downtown shopping plaza is fully occupied and it is satisfying to note the number of people shopping or doing business in the downtown area on a daily basis. It is quite a different situation from just a few short years ago.

Housing construction, renovation and rehabilitation programs are making great improvements in the integrity of the housing stock of some of our older neighborhoods and improving housing opportunities for people of all ages and income ranges.

Giorgetti Park, White's Park and our mini-parks continue to be improved and renovated to provide safe enjoyable recreational facilities and programs to our citizens.

Many other development projects are still in the planning stages, such as a newly proposed natural gas plant, more railroad improvements, improving access to the Howe Center and the downtown area, and cooperation with the Killington Ski Area in their plans for development.

Plans for an improved police facility and renovations to City Hall and the Fire Station are back on the drawing board after funding was denied by the voters. These projects will eventually have to be done, so we must find a plan that satisfies the needs of the City and the desires of the voters. This is a challenge that must be addressed in the coming year.

I encourage the citizens of the City of Rutland to make themselves aware of the issues facing the City and to participate in the local government process.

I would like to thank the board of Aldermen, Mayor Wennberg and all City officials, department heads and employees for their continued support and cooperation. The coming year promises to be an interesting and challenging one.

Fiscal Year 1999 Budget/Tax Rates/Grand Lists

Audit Report

Reports of the audits conducted by the City of Rutland and the Rutland City School Department are included in the City of Rutland Financial Statement which is a separate document and is available from the Office of the City Treasurer.

Report of the City Treasurer

R. J. Graves, City Treasurer

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

The Treasurer's office again has completed another year in fulfilling its duties and responsibilities to the Tax Payers of the City of Rutland. Myself and staff are pleased to submit to you the annual report for the year ending June 30, 1998.

It is without question that our responsibilities are great. We in the Treasurer's office welcome our duties and hope that we have performed them diligently and foremost to the best of our ability for the Tax Payers of the City.

Our duties are widespread in nature from preparing and collecting tax bills, water and sewer rents and providing service to the general public, as well as providing fiscal support of all departments of the City.

Utmost in our duties is the accountability of the Tax Payer's dollars. This office publishes a comprehensive financial report annually under a separate cover. As presented in that report the General Fund of the City as a result of its operations has a Fund Balance or surplus of $117,745.30. This fund balance is directly carried over to the next fiscal year to offset what needs to be raised by taxes for that fiscal year.

The City met its debt requirements promptly during Fiscal Year 1998. The City's total Bonded Indebtedness as of June 30, 1998 is $11,739,400.00. Interest on that debt totals $4,173,760.00.

The City also maintains Water, Sewage Disposal, and Parking Meter Funds in addition to a number of Trust and Agency funds.

The Financial Report will be audited by an independent certified public accounting firm. The audit was designed to meet requirements of the City, State, and the Federal Single Audit Act of 1984 and related OMB Circular A-128.

The preparation of this report and the comprehensive annual financial report on a timely basis was made possible by the dedicated service of the entire staff by the Finance Department which is made up of the Treasurer's office, Data Processing Department, and Purchasing.

Report of the Building Inspector/Zoning Administrator

James P. Simonds

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I am pleased to submit to you, the annual report of the activities of the Building and Zoning office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1998.

Our progress continues in bringing properties into compliance with City codes. We are doing more inspections for Certificates of Occupancy and in doing so, correcting zoning issues that have fallen between the cracks since our zoning ordinance was adopted.

Our office will undergo some changes in office procedure, due to a new Bill recently passed by both the House and Senate (Bloomer Bill S232). We are now required to record, in the Land Records, all permits, CO's, violation letters, and any pertinent information on properties. Any violations found on Certificates of Occupancy, will require a follow up inspection for compliance. All violations, other than C.O.'s, will require a $14 fee for recording, and all permits will need an addition $7 fee, for this purpose. Please know that the City of Rutland is not requiring these changes, but the legislature. We are sorry for the inconvenience and additional expense this may cause the citizens of Rutland City.

We have seen some positive revitalization efforts this year. Royce Street continues to receive an upgrade with the purchase of yet another multi family property by Rutland County Community Land Trust.

Barbara Carris has purchased 101 Center Street, formerly the Rutland Historic Society building, and she is revitalizing it to a vision of its former self. Her plans are for an antique shop. Very fitting! Very beautiful!

The Grace Congregational Church has turned their property at 6 Court Street into an Adult Day Care facility. This service will fill a need in Rutland County that is important and valuable to home health care families.

The College of St. Joseph, on Clement Road, is adding to their campus with a new student center, approximately 11,722 sq. ft.

Woodstock Avenue is seeing the demolition of a two family house, which will be the new site of a car wash, owned by Len Knappmiller.

Mark Foley continues to beautify downtown with his revitalization efforts. The Evelyn Street Apartments were demolished to make way for the Community College of Vermont campus. Mark's high standards will turn this property into a valuable asset to our community. He continues to bring the Service Building, a Merchants Row, Rutland landmark, into city compliance as well as helping to beautify the downtown. His newest project is to replace the clock in the tower, as well as replacing any time worn accessories to the structure.

We wish to thank Peter Louras for the addition of a handicap ramp to the Rutland Restaurant, helping Rutland become more code compliant with the American's with Disabilities Act. We were also pleased to see the Masonic Temple bring their beautiful building into compliance with ADA Codes, as well as Life Safety Codes, by their newly installed elevator.

The Building and Zoning department took in 223 permits as follows:

Building permits:	Cost of construction
12 new residential construction	$1,242,000.00
142 repairs to existing residential property	1,243,091.00
4 new commercial construction	2,291,549.00
47 repairs to existing commercial property	2,562,724.00
18 demolition

Also for review and approval:

- 34 Sign permits
- 43 Electrical applications
- 18 Variance applications
- 14 Subdivision applications

In closing, I would like to thank the residents of the City of Rutland for their patience in dealing with complaints, understanding of city ordinances and codes, support in trying to bring properties into compliance and for bearing with us through all the changes in office procedures. Thanks go to the Clerk's office for their work in the recording requirement changes. We also thank mayor Wennberg, the Board of Alderman, and the Zoning Board of Adjustment for working cooperatively with our office for the betterment of Rutland City, and to City Attorneys Chris Sullivan and Henry Brislin for their close association with our office providing us with legal guidance and support in upholding city ordinances.

Report of the Zoning Board of Adjustment

Stephanie Lorentz, Chairperson

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

The Zoning Board of Adjustment is pleased to submit the annual report for fiscal year 1997-1998.

Members: Stephanie Lorentz, Chairperson, Dean Lawes, J. Donald Cross, Andrea R. Hubbard MacLauchlan, Al Trepanier, Martha Hogan Henry, and Gregory Thayer.

We held 18 public hearings for variance requests. Hearings are scheduled for the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of the month, and are held in Aldermanic Chambers. The hearings are warned to give advance notice to the public so they may participate in the hearing. Our obligation is to determine whether or not the statutory five criteria were satisfied, to investigate discrepancies and interpret the Zoning Ordinance, as written.

The Board wishes to thank the residents of the City of Rutland for their active participation in the public hearing process, Jim Simonds, the Zoning Administrator, Cathy Diana, and the Mayor for their continued support of our efforts.

Report of the Legal Department

Christopher P. Sullivan, City Attorney/Grand Juror

Henry C. Brislin, Assistant City Attorney

To the Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

The Legal Department continued its role as corporation counsel, chief union negotiator and has prosecuted and defended the City in all matters in which the City has been interested. Further, this office continued to prosecute all violations of City ordinances and by-laws

Throughout the year, this office has provided legal advice to the Board of Aldermen and its committees. This advice includes procedural questions and liability issues to constitutional and civil rights. This type of work involves various forms of fact gathering, legal research and the application of the law to factual situations. Discussions may include potential consequences of certain actions taken as well as recommending the proper steps to be taken before any action.

Similarly, this office provided the various departments of the City with legal advice and services. These include, among others, contract review and analysis, risk analysis, personnel issues, procedural issues and guidance on interpretation of laws and ordinances.

This office worked closely once again with the Building and Zoning Department, Mayor's, Treasurer's and Tax Assessor's Offices, Department of Public Works, Fire, Police and Recreation as well as with the Rutland Redevelopment Authority providing legal advice and representation in litigation.

Additionally, the office closely monitors cases being handled by outside counsel.

It's been a busy and productive year. It's been a pleasure representing the interests of the City and this office looks forward to continuing to provide the legal services to the City of Rutland this coming year.

Emergency Management Report

Ira I Earle III, Director, Emergency Management

To the Honorable City Council and Citizens of Rutland:

I respectfully submit the Annual Report for the Department of Emergency Management for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1998.

From July of 1997 - June 1998 the Department was called on for many different types of emergencies, usually to help citizens of house fires to locate shelter and clothing. This past year, however, was unusual. There were several families being displaced. Also, the calls for carbon monoxide increased significantly. There were many unusual emergencies during this period that gave this department an opportunity to more fully use its resources, such as the emergency operations plan. The plan was activated several times for spills or releases of hazardous materials.

This department, along with the local emergency planning committee, is working closely with the school department in revising their emergency evacuation plans.

Last winter, the Mayor's Emergency Fuel fund was transferred to BROCC, along with matching funds from other sources, for administrative reasons. Cold weather started in early November and did not let up until the middle of April. This fund, through the generous contributions of the area Ecumenical Council and others helped ninety-seven (97) persons and families through the heating season.

Snow storms started in November. Around Thanksgiving, we saw a couple of feet of snow. During the winter months snow storms were very steady, not really accumulating a lot of snow but enough to make it miserable.

During the months of April and May, high water from several days of rain, melting snow and warm weather, threatened some flooding. Although the water was high in several areas and the possibility of evacuation from these areas was a factor, evacuation was not needed.

Throughout 1998, Rutland City experienced several micro bursts and strong windstorms, along with a lot of rain. Electric power was interrupted by high winds, and occasional hail, knocking twigs, branches and many trees to the ground. Many homes and businesses were without electric services. The police and public work's departments, along with fire and emergency management controlled the incidents, but not without the help of CVPS, and the area tree companies.

As safety director for the City of Rutland, I have overseen the formation of several new fitness programs. We have joined with the leagues of cities and towns starting walk-a-thons and physical agility programs. The goal is to make our coworkers aware of their "health and safety."

After months of matching telephone numbers to street addresses and occupants, and hours of training and setting up equipment, Enhanced 911, better known as E911, has become a reality. The end result—Rutland City is now a PSAP (Public Service Answering Point) for Rutland City. This involves call taking and dispatching all services such as Fire, Police & Emergency Medical Services (EMS). The Rutland City Fire Department is the new dispatch center. It is operated twenty-four hours a day by trained Tele-communicators. Now online, all calls that are routed to E911 are answered and dispatched from the new communications center, thus eliminating the middle man. I would like to thank the dispatchers from the city police department and also those from the fire department for their support and cooperation in this project. Thanks also to the Mayors office, Police Commission, Fire Department Headquarters, Police Headquarters, Assessors office and Regional Ambulance Service.

This office has worked with the Vermont Emergency Management and the EPA to obtain training for the emergency services agencies. As noted in prior communications, several emergency service schools were held for the police, fire and DPW such as Haz-Mat awareness, CAMEO (computer aided management of emergency operations), Blood-borne pathogens, confined space entry and others, which are mandated by federal law. As these classes or courses become more available, this office will continue to help emergency departments in our area in sending people to maintain top grade emergency response personnel. As director of emergency management, I have attended several emergency management schools and seminars throughout the year which are mandatory for the city to maintain EMA status.

As chairman of the Local Emergency Planning Committee, I was able to obtain a Weatherpak station for the new formed (RERT) Regional Emergency Response Team. This instrument can measure wind velocity, temperature, wind direction, real-time humidity and other vital information in case of a Hazardous Materials release or spill.

In conclusion the office of emergency management has worked with other agencies in controlling emergencies such as spills and releases of hazardous materials, fires, and natural disasters. Some of the agencies involved were CVPS, Red Cross, Salvation Army, BROc, Tree Companies, GE, private companies and the petroleum dealers. Thank you for your resources and assistance.

Rutland Fire Department

Craig H. Shelley, Chief Engineer

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I respectfully submit the annual report for the City of Rutland Fire Department, for the fiscal year July 1, 1997 through June 30, 1998.

The City of Rutland Fire Department is committed to provide dependable service in a professional manner while showing compassion for those in need. We will protect lives, property, and the environment through fire suppression, emergency services, hazardous materials mitigation, fire prevention, and community education.

The Department will be a progressive, service-oriented organization that provides innovative and effective leadership through our ongoing education and training.

The City of Rutland Fire Department

"Courage, Commitment, Compassion"

This fiscal year was a year of change. Chief Gerald Lloyd announced his retirement in July after forty years of service. Upon his retirement, Assistant Chief Gerald Lancour was appointed Chief of Department. In November 1997 I was appointed Chief and assumed command of the department on November 17. I wish to express my sincere gratitude to Chief Lancour for his leadership of the department prior to my appointment. His leadership during this time made the transition of command easier for the Department. In March, we had the retirement of Captain Edward Dalto after thirty-one years of dedicated service. Also in March, Firefighter James Miles was hired as a full-time employee of the fire department. This was the first full-time firefighter hired in over ten years.

A major change within the department was the integration of the E-911 dispatchers with the fire department dispatch center. All radios and telephones related to the E-911 system were moved to Fire Headquarters where both police and fire dispatching will take place. The E-911 dispatchers now perform the functions previously performed by firefighters. This enables the firefighter previously assigned to dispatch to respond with the apparatus on all alarms. This additional firefighter also allows the Department to comply with OSHA's guidelines for respiratory protection which sets standards for interior structural firefighter safety. It requires that during interior structural firefighting operations, a minimum of two firefighters must remain outside of the building ready to enter when required for firefighter rescue.

During this past year your fire department responded to a total of 768 emergency responses. Of these, fifty-seven were structural fires; twenty-seven vehicle fires; fifty-six other type fires (outside fires, etc.); 108 rescues; 147 hazardous conditions; twenty-six service calls (water removal, agency assists); 141 good intent calls (smoke odors, controlled burning, steam or gas reported as smoke, other calls concerning the safety of citizens); 203 false alarms; and three other types of situations not classified above. The fire department also responded to 1,342 special service calls.

The department determined the cause and origin of all fires and assisted with the investigations of any fires then determined to be suspicious. In addition, personnel reviewed 241 permits processed through the building department for renovations to existing structures. Our fire prevention personnel worked closely with the Vermont Department of Labor and Industry in approving plans for all new construction within the City.

During the past fiscal year the fire department responded to three General Alarms. August 21, 1997 at 127 Robbins Street; November 5, 1997 at 112 State Street; and February 24, 1998 at 157 State Street. In addition, there were thirteen instances where additional personnel were recalled to assist at emergency operations or provide coverage for the city. Two of these situations were major automobile accidents where people were trapped in the vehicles for an extended amount of time. The first was an auto that was wedged underneath a log truck at the intersection of Routes 7 and 103. A woman and small child were pinned in their vehicle. The second was a tractor-trailer overturned on Route 133 in Ira with the driver trapped in the cab. The persistence, knowledge, and skill of the members of this department were instrumental in the safe extrication of the victims with relatively minor injuries.

Approximately 500 hours were spent maintaining traffic lights and signals as well as the fire alarm system. The department's electrician conducted thirty-five electrical inspections. Members of this department also conducted building inspections in conjunction with the Vermont Department of Labor and Industry and the City of Rutland Building Inspector James Simonds to correct violations of the Life Safety and B.O.C.A. codes.

At the present time, we are working with the City's Emergency Management Director, Ira Earle and the Vermont Emergency Management Office in preparation for a multi-agency hazardous materials exercise scheduled for August 1998. This exercise will test the capabilities of the fire department, police department, department of public works, and other agencies with regards to a large-scale hazardous materials release in the City.

Once again, to ensure the safety of our students, the department supervised the fire drills at all schools within the City. A minimum of nine fire drills were conducted at each educational facility. Our department was cordially welcomed during each visit to the schools. The members of our department would like to thank the Superintendent of Schools, school principals, teachers, maintenance personnel, and the students for their cooperation during these drills.

Extensive training has been ongoing in the department since the certification of all members to Vermont level 1 Firefighter. This year over 2,100 staff-hours of training were conducted. The International Association of Firefighters during March conducted a twenty-four hour course in confined space rescue operations. The State of Vermont conducted sixteen hours of liquefied petroleum gas training using live fire scenarios. Refresher training in infectious disease control and cardiopulmonary resuscitation is ongoing. Annual familiarization visits to the General Electric plants have begun. Five members of the department, under the direction of Assistant Chief Lancour were re-certified in Aircraft 139 Operations, to maintain their active FAA firefighter standards. The City of Rutland Fire Department is under contact with the State of Vermont Agency of Transportation, to provide certified firefighters when aircraft with a passenger capability of more than thirty land or take off. Members of this Department maintain the air-crash-rescue-firefighting vehicle stationed at the Rutland State Airport.

Our ongoing fire education and safety programs under the direction of Captain Gregorio and Lt. Walsh, was once again provided to all students in grades pre-K through four, who are enrolled in the Rutland City School system. These programs have been developed and presented by the Officers and Firefighters of this department in an effort to provide a safe home environment and promote fire safety in all aspects of daily living. These programs served approximately 1300 students. In addition, approximately seventy-five tours of the fire station were given to students and adults alike during the course of the year.

I look forward to working with the citizens of Rutland, as well as the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen in the upcoming years and wish to express my thanks to them, the members of the City of Rutland Fire Department and the other department heads for making me feel welcome. I especially want to thank the members of the department for "a job well done" during the past fiscal year.

Planning Commission

John A. Facey, III, Chair

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

year. In addition to handling numerous subdivision applications, we have also reviewed changes to the City master Plan and continue to work to revise the City's Zoning Ordinance.

We have two members that sit on the Rutland Redevelopment Authority Architectural Review Committee that reviews all development proposals on the Downtown District. Jack Facey, Ted Robare and Peter Giancola share the duty to sit on the Architectural Review Committee. Barbara Allen continues as Secretary. Barbara also works with the Rutland Redevelopment Authority.

Our membership consists of Jack Facey, Chair, Jim Pell, John Hock, Ted Robare, Michael Donahue, Kathleen Valente, Carolyn Baker, Peter Giancola and Alvin Figiel. We received and reviewed approximately sixteen applications during the fiscal year. We have also assisted the Rutland Redevelopment Authority (RRA) with a review of its Architectural and Design Guidelines.

The Planning Commission meets on the first and third Wednesdays of the month at 7:00 P.M. in the Aldermanic Chambers. One of our active Subcommittees is the Draft Zoning Subcommittee, which meets on Tuesdays at noon in the City Attorney's Meeting Room and is working on new zoning regulations for the City. The Subcommittee on Zoning hopes to have a draft of the new Zoning Ordinance to present to the Planning Commission by December 31, 1998.

In closing, the Planning Commission wishes to thank Mayor Jeff Wennberg, the Board of Alderman and City Attorney Christopher P. Sullivan for their advice and assistance and all of the citizens who attended our public hearings and gave us the benefit of their thought and experience.

I am pleased to submit the annual report of the Assessor's Office for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1998.

City Assessor's Office

Barry J. Keefe, City Assessor

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

The Grand List at April 1, 1998 totaled $689,235, 918 which reflects a decrease from April 1, 1997 of $3,258,482 or less than one half of one percent. After adding new construction and renovations and subtracting for demolitions and value lost, the Grand List actually grew in categories of residential and commercial with net gains of $814,699 and $410,060 respectively. The machinery and equipment dropped a significant $5,941,211. However, with the departure of Tambrands as a taxpayer in the City went $8.3 million in machinery and equipment. Our slow but steady growth has been offset by these significant events the last few years.

With the implementation of Act 60, the City taxpayer directly realizes a shift in the machinery and equipment on the municipal tax rate while the State absorbs the education grand list and spreads it among all Vermonters. As a result of Act 60, the tax rate dropped from 2.6725 to 2.6225 for an actual reduction in taxes paid.

The equalization rate for F/Y 97-98 is 97%, which is the ratio of assessed value to actual sales in the marketplace. This statistical information is more important than ever before because with the implementation of Act 60 it is a contributing factor in our education tax rate. I feel very good about both the equalization rate and our coefficient of dispersion because it is an indication of accuracy and fairness. With the real estate market improving, the combination of these factors has reduced the number of grievances brought forward.

Act 60 in its second year of implementation will bring more changes for the taxpayer. With change, questions and concerns surely follow. The Assessor's Office is committed to make the transition as easy as possible for our citizens.

I thank the people of this fine City for their support in carrying out this function.

Police Department

Anthony L. Bossi, Chief of Police

To the Honorable Jeffrey N. Wennberg, Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I am pleased to submit to you this Annual Report of the activities of the Rutland City Police Department for fiscal year ending June 30, 1998.

I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to the members of the Police commission for their continued support, the members of the Police Department for their hard work and dedication, Mayor Wennberg and the Board of Aldermen for their faith and confidence, and to all the Citizens of Rutland who have cooperated, assisted, and demonstrated support for the Police Department throughout this past year. Thank you.

Department of Public Works

Warren E. Conner, Commissioner of Public Works

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

I hereby submit the annual report of the activities of the Department of Public Works for Fiscal Year 1997-98.

The Department of Public Works, through its various Divisions, proves a variety of services, many of which are essential to the well being of the Citizens of Rutland.

The Water Treatment Division supplies the City with plentiful and safe drinking water far exceeding all State and Federal water quality standards. The slow sand filtration plant constructed in 1996 is a jewel of simplicity and economy. There are only two employees in this Division. In addition to putting in a normal work week these men provide 24 hour emergency call out services and alarm response 365 days a year.

The Water Distribution Division is responsible for the reliable delivery of water for domestic, commercial, and industrial use, as well as fire protection. Their duties include the installation, maintenance and repair of the water system, including hydrants and water meters, and water meter reading. We are fortunate in that our system is 100% gravity and can be relied upon to provide water even in the event of power outages. We are also fortunate that the Division employees are as dependable. You only need to see them once, on a below-zero February night, working in the spray from a broken main, wearing a coat of ice over their rain gear, their numbed and frozen fingers struggling with the bolts of a repair clamp to realize what dependability really is.

The Wastewater Collection Division is responsible for collecting and delivering the wastewater to the treatment plant. Their duties include the installation, maintenance and repair of the sanitary and stormwater systems, including pipes, catch basins and manholes. This unit is a team in every sense of the word. This team is unsurpassed in professionalism and competence.

The Wastewater Treatment Division operates and maintains the sewer treatment plant and the several sewer pump stations, including on the Alpine Pipeline in Rutland Town and Mendon. In contrast to the water plant, the wastewater plant is a marvel of complexity where biological processes are continually monitored and "tweaked" to provide the finest quality effluent attainable. The skill of our award-winning operators is evident in the fact that much of the time the effluent from the wastewater plant is of better quality than the water of Otter Creek into which it is discharged. This facility is rightfully regarded as one of the finest and best operated wastewater plants in New England.

The Streets Division, is perhaps the most visible, most relied upon and most under appreciated unit in the Department. While their main duty is the maintenance of the City's streets and the Department's vehicles, it has also become the city's "Jack of all trades". They may patch potholes in the morning, and build a train station platform in the afternoon. Plow snow, set up voting booths, pick up a dead animal, plant a tree, build a fence, paint guardrails, build sidewalks and curbs, paint parking spaces, repair a bridge deck, clean up downed trees after a storm.... Their duties are varied and endless.

Our only one person unit is the Forestry Division. The current City Forester and Arborist has been in that position for most of his 27 years with the Department, quietly and conscientiously managing both the City Forest and the street trees. Over the years, Rutland has become a greener and more attractive community. Nearly every street tree 8 inches or less in diameter was planted as a result of his efforts. Timber sales administered by the Forester provide the City with about $50,000-$100,000 income each year.

While each Division has its own duties, in emergencies, particularly snow removal, the Divisions work together to get the job done. This has always been the case and is even more necessary now that the individual Divisions have been reduced. In the last ten years we have lost approximately 20% of our field personnel through attrition.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the employees in each Division for their efforts.

A special note of thanks is extended to the D.P.W. Administration staff. We rely upon them to keep our day to day operations running smoothly.

I would also like to thank Mayor Wennberg, the Board of Aldermen and citizens of Rutland who have assisted the department.

The Department responds to citizen concerns and complaints on a daily basis and emergency situations on a 24-hour basis. Citizens are reminded to contact the Police Department if emergency situations arise when the Department's business office is closed.

The Department of Public Works will continue to serve the Citizens of the City of Rutland to the best of its ability.

Engineering

Warren E. Conner, P.E., L.S., Commissioner and City Engineer

Alan Shelves, P.E., L.S., Assistant City Engineer

The Engineering Division provides engineering and technical services for each division of this Department and for all other Departments within City Government.

It compiles and updates records of the City owned utilities and street system and locates and marks out City Water and sewer facilities as requested for the benefit of contractors, property owners and others performing work that may impact those utilities.

The Division also reviews technical designs and specifications for city projects let out to bid, and for streets and utilities built by developers that will be taken over by the city upon completion.

Contracts, easements, deeds and other documents required for the completion of various City projects are prepared by this Division in conjunction with the Office of the City Attorney.

The Engineering Division worked closely with Wright Engineering, Ltd. of Rutland on the design of a new precast concrete retaining wall to replace the existing gabion (stone filled wire baskets) retaining wall at the water supply intake building. The Division prepared the contract documents for this project which was put out to bid for construction in the spring of 1998. Giancola Construction Company of Rutland was awarded the bid. The project is expected to be completed by late fall of 1998 at a cost of $73,900.

Other projects that this Division was involved with during this past fiscal year include the relocation of the railroad tracks at the train station site, modifications to aeration tank air delivery piping at the wastewater treatment plant, the construction of the Spruce Street Extension, Combined sewer overflow (CSO) Phase II preliminary design, and the traffic circulation and signalization project.

The Division reviewed 240 building permits in conjunction with the Building Inspector's office.

The Engineering Staff consists of Warren Conner, Alan Shelves, and Peter Kelly who together represent 64 years of service to the City.

City Forest and City Ornamental Trees

David A. Richards, City Forester and Arborist

The City Forester and Arborist is in charge of all forestry work including management of the City's street trees and the 4,000 acres of the City forest in the watershed.

The sale of all timber in the Rutland City Municipal Forest is carried out under approved watershed management practices to provide a regulated harvest of timber products and to protect and insure maximum sustained yields of usable water. Timber sales include sawlogs, firewood and pulpwood. Sales are marked out so as to improve the timber stand which remain while providing income for the City. Trees over 6" in diameter at breast height which do not promise to develop into sawtimber quality stems are removed. Large straight trees are left to become more valuable and to provide genetically superior seedlings.

The Stafford Technical Center Forestry/Natural Resources Program continues to use the Rutland City Forest to train students in Forestry and logging techniques. Last winter they salvaged red pine sawlogs from trees which had blown down in three different pine plantations. They then sawed the logs into boards with a sawmill owned by the Stafford Technical Center.

There were (2) timber sales sold during the year, the name of the sale, the contracts and the amount of money to be paid are as follows:

Courtney Road Timber Sale-Shawn Poczobut
Rutland, VT	$155,650.00
Reservoir Timber Sale #7- Ralph Page
Shrewsbury, VT	$4,435.00

During the fiscal year, we had 510 feet of existing winter truck road upgraded to an all weather truck road. This was accomplished by hauling and spreading gravel. Bryon Hathaway Excavations, Inc. of Rutland did the work at a cost of $2,175.00 to the City.

Also, the City had Shawn Poczobut widen out five (5) gates which allow access to truck roads. This was done to accommodate the increased size of log trucks since the gates were built. This work was done at a cost to the City of $996.00

Under the City's ornamental tree program, we have tried to maintain the beauty of our City by properly caring for our trees. This includes removal of dead and dying trees, removal of dead limbs, installing metal cables or metal rods to prevent splitting, removing low hanging limbs for street and sidewalk clearance, fertilizing trees and planting new trees.

Streets Division

Paul Clifford, Streets Division Manager

I would like to start by saying thank you to the members of the Street Division of the DPW for their fine efforts over the past year. Although our crew is small for a city this size, they managed once again to put on an admirable performance.

Thanks also to members of the other divisions for their team efforts on snow removal and special projects.

Also praise must go to the office personnel who handle those busy and sometimes nasty phone calls and paper work, thank you for your patience.

I must, however, give a special thanks and praise to the members of the Equipment Maintenance Division, Pete Billings, Steve Longley and Kim Moriglroni, all of which deserve the "Scotty" award for being miracle workers for keeping a sometimes dismal and sagging fleet afloat.

Hot mix street paving:

The paving of selected streets totaling $344,947.00 was put in place by Wilk Paving.

Snow and ice removal costs were $179,659.61 for total de-icer materials and equipment rental.

The Street Division crew members are:

Elwin Leonard
Normal King
Maurice Choinere
George Fitzsimmons
Edward Barker
Daniel Maniery
Karl Rusiecki
Richard Battles
Fred Rathjen, Jr
Kevin Schaner
Erwin Pinney
Brian Schaner

Thank you again..

Water Meter Division

Robert Harvey, Meter Division Supervisor

Meter Division:

Supervisor
Robert Harvey

Record Clerk
Thomas Crosby

Meter Readers &
Maintenence:

Bruce Taylor
Jim Lawrence
William Franzoni

The Meter Division is responsible to read approximately 5,800 water meters each quarter, investigate complaints of high billing and replace meters as necessary. Special readings for real estate closings, water turn off and on and the associated record keeping is the responsibility of the Division. The meter crew also assists the other Public Works Divisions in emergency situations such as water leak repairs and snow removal.

The meter Division is in the process of upgrading existing meters with new electronic "touchpad" type meters. We have a three person field crew. Each quarter two of the men read meters while one installs the new ones. In addition to the Meter Division regular routes, the Division will be reading and maintaining the meters in the Alpine Pipeline region.

The Fiscal year, there were 100 water turn off/on permits issued and approximately 850 new Schlumberger meters installed as part of the meter system upgrade.

I would like to thank the members of the Meter Division for their support and dedication during the past year. Their positive attitude and professionalism kept the Division running smoothly.

I would also like to thank Joan Pluta from the DPW main office and Alan Shelvey of the Engineering Division for their assistance through the past year.

This past winter was unusually mild but I would once again like to thank the Water Department Personnel:

Mike Denno
Howard Hall
Larry Hall
Don Roberts

for their time and effort during this past fiscal year.

Water Treatment Division

Mike Garofano, Water Treatment Manager

Scott Taggart, Assistant Water Treatment Manager

The City of Rutland's Slow Sand Water Filtration Facility treated a total of 949,840,100 gallons of water which equates to approximately 2,600,000 gallons for an average daily use. The water is treated with chlorine for disinfection, hydrofluosilicic acid (fluoride), and zinc-orthophosphate for corrosion control.

This division completed various projects in addition to the normal duties of operating the filtration facility, maintaining the grounds and monitoring activities in the watershed area. We installed vinyl siding on our vehicle/maintenance garage. Removed trees along the shoreline of the reservoir in order to reduce the amount of organic material entering the water. Demolished the old chlorine plant on Post Road that was not used since the filtration facility was put in operation. We also made various adjustments to the process so that we could continue to supply water that is both safe and of good quality for the users.

Engineering was completed on a new retaining wall to be constructed the next fiscal year at our water inlet on Mendon Brook.

During the past year we gave numerous tours of our facility to various groups and we look forward to more in the future. We would like to thank the other employees of the Department of Public Works for their help throughout the year.

Wastewater Treatment Division

G. Lewis Hotaling, Chief Operator
David P. O'Neill, Laboratory Director

Over the past year the Wastewater Treatment Facility recycled a total of 1,755,830,000 gallons of water.

To aid in the treatment process, the following chemicals were used:

Sodium Aluminate -
for phosphorus removal 60,887 gallons

Sodium Hypochlorite -
for disinfection 29,639 gallons

Sodium Bi-sulfite - for de-chlorination 19,800 gallons

The Treatment Plant consumed 1,499,000 kilowatt hours of electricity.

Materials removed from the waste stream include:

Grit, Sand and Gravel 96.9 cu. yds.

Raw Sludge 7,124,180 gallons

Secondary Sludge 13,631,764 gallons

3,102 cubic yards of digested sludge cake was produced and sent to a Vermont landfill.

This facility operated within the conditions of the discharge permit throughout the year.

In addition to operational activities, preventative maintenance and equipment repair or replacement are the major activities that take place at the Treatment Plant. Some of the larger tasks that were accomplished this year include:

Replacement of both Belt Filter Presses.

Replacement of #2 Dissolved Air Floatation Thickener with a Gravity Belt Thickener.

Replacement of the Motor Controllers for Blower #1

Construction of a Sludge Receiving Tank for receiving sludge from area Wastewater Treatment Plants

An upgrade of our Polymer batching and pumping system.

The operators at the Treatment Plant played a key role in the successful completion of these ambitious projects. I would like to take this opportunity to thank them for their hard work and dedication.

We extend our sincere appreciation for the assistance and cooperation extended to us by the other divisions in the DPW, the Mayor, Commissioner and the Board of Aldermen.

Rutland Recreation & Parks Department

Leif E. Dahlin, Superintendent

Volunteers, benefactors and supportive Boards coming together to make things happen is what this year was all about.

It was a great year to work with so many different volunteers in a host of different capacities that made for a tremendous year in the programs for citizens and facility development.

The City has a new park for which everyone is exceedingly proud of! The development of Justin Thomas Memorial Park was a major and monumental project that was undertaken by Roy and Michelle Thomas. This young couple spearheaded a truly remarkable effort of labor and love on behalf of their son Justin who passed away in the Spring of 1997. This couple raised the funds and recruited an army of volunteers to completely redesign the former Madison St. Park. In May of 1998, Madison St. Park was completely renovated with the installation of new playground equipment, a memorial sidewalk, gazebo and plenty of landscaping. This is a project that I had the privilege to be involved in and will never forget.

Whites Park has also been the beneficiary of many efforts by members of the community. Plans were developed to renovate; the baseball field, tennis and basketball courts, playground equipment and to make major improvements to the aquatic complex. A number of the improvements have already been completed and more renovation is still to come. The improvements at White's Park were made possible by a trust fund that was established many years ago for just this purpose. Thank you to the White family for thinking of the future and their desire to help maintain this park.

Once again, Giorgetti Park has received another major improvement due to the generosity of Mrs. Mary Giorgetti. The upper parking lot adjacent to the rink has been paved. The first phase of the paving was done in October 1998 and the second finish phase will be completed in the Spring of 1999. Additionally, the Board of Alderman approved a lighting retrofit project at Giorgetti Rink. This project will greatly enhance the lighting needs at this facility and cut energy use by more than 60 percent. This will translate into a huge savings in energy cost over the years.

Each step we take with improvements take us one step closer to bringing our parks back to a level we can all be proud of. This has all been made possible through the generosity and willingness of many people in the community, organizations, the Mayor and Board of Alderman.

Partnerships have become an integral part of our operation. Rather than duplicate, we seek to find ways to compliment and supplement other groups and organizations, in turn they do the same for the Recreation and Parks Department. The synergy of these partnerships make it all worth it!

The full-time staff of the Department take great pride in their work. They truly put their heart and soul into their work and provide the very best for the residents of Rutland given the resources they have to work with. Thank you each and every member of the Department.

Health Officer

Pamela J. Petrie, Health Officer

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen and Citizens of the City of Rutland

I hereby submit the annual report of the Health Officer for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1998.

The Board of Health consists of Robert Beauchamp, R. Ph., Michael Durkin, RN and William A. Pratt, M.D. This board acts in a supportive role by assisting and advising the Health Officer in matters regarding public health.

Throughout this past year, both the Health Officer and the Board of Health have been kept fully apprised of the weekly testing of The City water through the cooperation of the water treatment manager. The water remains consistently in compliance with all State and Federal water quality standards.

Once again this past year has been a very busy year with public health nuisance allegations requiring investigation. In some instances, Health Orders were necessary, along with the help from other City Departments and the Vermont Department of Health, to abate the worst of these problems.

Recently we have all heard about Act 165 passed by our Vermont Legislature in 1996 and amended in 1997 to prevent childhood lead poisoning in older rental housing and child care facilities. This act requires that the owners of rental properties and child care facilities built before 1978 take steps to help prevent children from being exposed to lead.

Now that we are all very aware of this element in our environment, we need to take some steps to reduce these risks to yourself and your children. The following are a few steps you can take in your own private home or in your rental unit to protect your family from potential lead hazards.

- Get your child tested for lead, even if they seem healthy.
- Make sure that you wash your child's hands, bottles, pacifiers and toys often.
- Try to feed your children healthy, low-fat foods.
- Clean your floors, window sills and other surfaces in your house or apartment regularly.
- Clean soil and other debris off the soles of shoes before entering your dwelling.
- Don't try to remove lead-based paint yourself.
- Don't use a belt-sander, propane torch, dry scaper, dry sandpaper or power washer on painted surfaces which may contain lead especially in houses containing rental units.
- Most important, if you have any questions pertaining to lead in your home - call 1-800-439-8550.

On behalf of the Board of Health and myself, I would like to thank Mayor Wennberg, the Board of Aldermen, all City Department Heads and their personnel for their continued support. In closing, I would again like to thank the many concerned citizens of this city for their assistance, cooperation and support, for without their help, many of the health issues would go unresolved.

Board of School Commissioners

Dr. Michael R. Dick, President, Board of School Commissioners

David S. Wolk, Superintendent of Schools

To the Citizens of the City of Rutland:

It is a pleasure to provide this report to Rutland's citizens regarding the status of the city school system.

We begin the 1998-99 school year with unbridled enthusiasm for our mutual success over the next few years. Our continuing theme is that of Great Expectations, as outlined below.

The school district reorganization of buildings was accomplished in an effort to provide the most efficient and cost effective delivery of education. Northeast and Northwest Schools continue to serve just under 300 students from Kindergarten through Second Grade. Our Intermediate School, located at the former Rutland High School site on Library Avenue, serves approximately 750 students Grades 3-6. Our middle school remains at Library Avenue, serving more than 400 students in grades 7 and 8 and our enrollment continues to increase at the new Rutland High School campus on Stratton Road and Woodstock Avenue, where we currently have well over 1000 students in attendance along with well over 220 students in a full time program at the Stafford Technical Center and over 1000 adults in our Adult Education program, the largest in Vermont.

The number of tuition students from Rutland Town, Mendon, Chittenden and Middletown Springs continues to increase. When I came to Rutland High School in July of 1993 there were 153 tuition students. We now have approximately 281, an increase of 84%. New programs, including an increase in our Advanced Placement and Honors Courses at Rutland High School, have contributed to the increasing attractiveness of Rutland High School as the most popular school of choice for parents and students in the tuition-paying towns.

Our goal is to continue to work cooperatively with the municipal side of city government, pursuing every possible way to create cost savings and enhanced collaboration. We continue to lease the former Dana School to the city Recreation Department as part of a five year program, providing relief to that department and to city taxpayers. We have developed a wonderful relationship with the department and its Superintendent, Mr. Leif Dahlin, keeping in mind that all of the schools are available for Recreation Department programs and services. Other communities would be envious of the cooperative partnership we have formed between our school and recreation departments.

Furthermore, we continue to provide rent free space for the Boys and Girls Club to provide increased recreational and cultural opportunities for area teens. The Club, with over 900 members, is located at the former Southeast School with late afternoon and early evening hours in a very well supervised environment. We also have developed the new SUCCESS Program which serves students who have had difficulties in their adaptation to a traditional school environment. This program combines academics, work and community service in a way that better meets the needs of these students, and also ensures that all of our schools maintain a safe, orderly, disciplined environment. The SUCCESS school is a model for the state, serving approximately 40 Students

Our Assistant Superintendent Mary Moran, has improved curriculum, assessment and professional development. Moreover, she has assisted us in our continuing efforts to secure private foundation support and federal and state grants to supplement our programs and services in Rutland City.

In the past year, we have brought in close to $1,000,000 in support to the system that would not otherwise have been available had we not focused on grant acquisition. Our plan is to increase upon that figure for the benefit of city taxpayers in the future. Although our enrollment has increased significantly over the past few years, we have not hired additional administrators in the Rutland City School system.

Act 60

As Superintendent of the Rutland City schools, it is my duty to set the record straight regarding what Act 60 has accomplished for Rutland City students and taxpayers.

First, it is well documented that several broad-based taxes in the State of Vermont were increased to provide the revenues for Act 60, which was passed in 1997 soon after the Supreme Court Brigham decision and then amended as Act 71 in 1998. There is no question that these statewide taxes were increased in order to create property tax relief and a better effort toward equal educational opportunity.

Second, as a result of Act 60 in the 1998-99 school year, there has been an increase in revenue for the school system of over $1.3 million, much of it allocated toward the purchase of instructional supplies, textbooks and computers.

Given that our per pupil expenditures remain well below the state average, given that student enrollment had increased (particularly at the high school where the number of tuition students from other towns has almost doubled over the past few years), given that many of these budget categories had been fixed or frozen for several years, and given that all school employees had their wages frozen for two of the previous five years, the new revenue was quite welcome.

Third, the school tax rate has decreased significantly under Act 60. Since some of the budget items were counted differently by the state prior to Act 60, it is only fair to make an "apples to apples" comparison of municipal and school expenditures. The total school tax rate for 1998-99 is $1.33 per $100 assessed value. This is a 7.5% decrease from the 1997-98 rate of $1.44, resulting in a savings of an estimated $107 on a home assessed at $100,000.

Rutland City property taxpayers did not see the full impact of the school tax reductions of 7.5% in 1998-99 because the municipal (non-school) tax rate increased by a total of almost 5%.

Moreover, Rutland City benefits from the equalized yield sharing provisions in Act 60 because the state formula subsidizes Rutland City school property taxes by almost $350,000. This is the fund referred to by some as the "shark pool". It was the Legislature's initiative to equalize educational opportunity.

Fourth, there is the "income sensitivity" factor in Act 60, which stipulates that homeowners in Rutland City whose income is $75,000 or below (approximately 90% of Rutland City taxpayers) pay no more than 2% of their income in school property taxes. Therefore, the vast majority of Rutland City school property taxpayers received an additional and significant savings beyond the 7.5% reduction in the school tax rate in the form of a "prebate" or in future savings based upon their income level.

Fifth, the one clear mandate in Act 60 was for enhanced local control over the quality of education in each community. Act 60 has improved accountability in terms of required assessment of student achievement, required reporting of the results of these assessments to the community, and required Action Plans in each school to improve the quality of teaching and learning.

Finally, it should be quite clear to unbiased and objective analysts of the impact of Act 60 on Rutland City that school property taxpayers realized significant savings and our students received additional instructional support.

What follows is an explanation of current practices and future directions for Rutland City Public Schools. We invite you to join us as we provide the most cost effective, quality education possible for Rutland City students and our large adult population.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

We need to raise the bar

If the Rutland City Public Schools are to provide the best quality education at the most affordable cost, then we need to raise the bar. We must establish Great Expectations for learning and teaching. We must promote the highest possible performance standards for educators and others who contribute to the education and welfare of our children, and we must demand the highest possible performance standards for intellectual growth and behavioral expectations for our students.

There is an undeniable truism which has been eternally proven by a wealth of educational research, and more importantly by plain old common sense known to parents and teachers alike, and that is this: the behavior and achievement of young people rise to the level of expectations of adults. Great expectations lead to great achievements. You know this to be true with your own children, and it is also true for all of the approximately 3000 students in the Rutland City Public Schools who have been entrusted to our care.

Please review an addition to the City Report this year: the attached "Report Card" on student achievement. We review these results, share them with parents, and seek to improve our educational programs. We think that the Report Card is important and we will continue to publish our results. There are several obvious areas for improvement.

Treating all children as if they are our own

Our promise to the Rutland community is one you can always depend on and one you should always remember: we will treat all of the children in the Rutland schools as if they were our own.

It is because of that pledge that we will work tirelessly to maintain a safe, orderly, disciplined environment in all of our schools, the only climate conducive to learning and teaching. We will not tolerate any disrespectful or disruptive behavior among our students, or for that matter among the parents of our students. Mutual respect for persons and property must characterize all of our interactions in and out of school. This must be the philosophy and the practice in the Rutland City Public Schools. School employees who do not believe that will not work here.

Parents and their children will continue to be reminded that in the Rutland schools we treat each other with respect and dignity, but we will not tolerate the very small minority who do not display such acceptable standards of behavior and we will remove those individuals from our classrooms.

Beyond buildings

We have witnessed a masterful and successful reorganization of the public schools in Rutland over the past few years. We are proud of our new high school and the renovated intermediate school, knowing at the same time that we need to attend to the maintenance and renovation needs at the primary schools and at the middle school, where the interior was painted this summer.

But since there is much more to a school than a building, our major focus over the next few years will be on what may be less visible but more important to taxpayers and to the community: developing a top-notch K-12 educational program of the highest quality that is second to none in the United States. Rutland's children deserve it.

We need to lend more credence to the high school diploma. Rutland High School boasts the highest graduation requirements in Vermont, not to mention the lowest dropout rate among large high schools. But increasingly we hear from the business community and the public in this country that high school graduates are not adequately prepared for the work force and that some graduates lack the basic skills for even entry level positions.

Our CAP (Curriculum, Assessment, Professional Development) initiative is focused on making that diploma more meaningful. As part of a larger, district-wide effort, various committees will continue their work on developing graduation standards in each learning area, essentially answering this question: what do our graduates need to know and be able to do to be successful as they enter college, careers or the military?

These standards, another aspect of our community's effort to "raise the bar," have been developed in a format which provides for the allocation of skill acquisition to meet the standards. Exit criteria are being developed at grades 3 and 7 to help students reach the standards and to correlate with our K-3, 4-7 and 8-12 segments designed to bridge our buildings and enhance communication and coordination among them.

Moreover, we need to recognize that all students deserve special education. This includes those students whose academic ability and motivation merit special challenges from the schools. We have an honors and Advanced Placement program at Rutland High which is one of the most challenging in Vermont, but we also need to continue to focus our efforts on those students in Kindergarten through eighth grade who deserve attention to their special academic needs.

This year we have again expanded our foreign language offerings in the Middle School, where students, unlike any other at that level in the area, now have a choice of French or Spanish courses prior to high school.

This is not easy work. If so, it would have been accomplished already, here or elsewhere. Instead, we have our eyes on the prize, developing an academic program with a K-12 interdisciplinary sequence, matching this new curriculum articulation with a credible assessment program that really measures results, and providing a professional development component that assists educators as we make these changes.

We are surrogate parents

The work of schools and educators has changed dramatically over the past few years. Our culture is radically different from that which informed schooling when we were kids. The impact of the media, with openly accessible late afternoon or early evening television shows which would have been rated for adult viewers only if they were shown in theaters, has been overwhelming in forcing young people to grow up before they are really ready. Furthermore, traditional safe havens for children (supportive homes, extended families, caring neighborhoods, among others) are no longer as available to many needy children.

Schools and educators have been asked to fill this void and consequently have become "surrogate parents" for a growing number of youngsters whose parents either do not care or are not there.

We have accepted this responsibility, well beyond the traditional academic mission of schools, by offering a myriad of enhanced opportunities for young people (new breakfast and lunch programs, preschool options, alternative educational programs, increased after school activities, expanded counseling and health services) and by continuing to work with the community to develop positive partnerships with other organizations to meet the changing needs of kids in the 1990s.

The new SUCCESS program, the new Boys and Girls Club, and improvements in our delivery of health and counseling services are testimony to this expanded mission. We have expanded after school opportunities for all students at all grade levels, broadening our partnerships with city recreation, arts and library programs and expanding our technological partnerships with Vermont Interactive Television, Rutland Regional Community Television and others. Furthermore, expanded mentoring connections between our older and younger students, help to fill the void. Our expanded volunteer programs in all the schools have been very successful.

We need to expand our non-athletic and intramural opportunities in order to guarantee that all students have access to activities outside the classroom. Furthermore, we need to fully develop our community service program so that all graduates of Rutland High School will have performed some form of service project for the community that supports their schools.

Organizing Ourselves to Reach our Great Expectations

How can we pull together and organize all of our initiatives, and how will we know that we are successful?

The school improvement process and Standards for Accreditation of the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) have proven successful for years as a way for individual secondary schools to conduct a comprehensive evaluation for the purpose of institutional accreditation. Our high school and middle school are currently accredited and come up for the ten-year re-accreditation review process in the Spring of 1998. Several years ago the NEASC established a new Commission on Public Elementary Schools which mirrors the standards and process utilized by the Secondary School Commission to evaluate and accredit 7-12 schools.

Since we are pursuing K-12 school improvements we initiate the evaluation/accreditation process for our three elementary schools as well. We embarked upon this school improvement process two years ago. All of our schools completed substantial self-studies in preparation for visiting team reviews in the Spring of 1998, after which there is a continuing need for follow-up to the team's recommendations. This is a cost-effective way to better organize or progress and to pursue a different level of quality control.

No other Vermont elementary school is currently accredited, although over 200 New England elementary schools are accredited. It takes a lot of work to conduct a thorough and comprehensive self-study, but by scheduling a common timeline for all of our schools we can consolidate our efforts.

There are 48 Standards for Accreditation in nine categories (philosophy; school and community; curriculum and instruction; student support programs; monitoring and assessment of student progress; library/learning media; faculty, staff and administration; school climate; and facilities and related services) against which we will be measured. These include the important elements of schooling, which will offer the schools and Rutland a clear and comprehensive school improvement model, with short-range and long-term goals.

IT IS MY PLEASURE TO REPORT THAT OUR THREE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS RECEIVED ACCREDITATION IN 1998, THE ONLY ACCREDITED ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS IN THE STATE OF VERMONT. AND RUTLAND MIDDLE SCHOOL, RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL, AND STAFFORD TECHNICAL CENTER HAVE BEEN ACCREDITED, WITH MANY COMMENDATIONS, AS WELL.

The pursuit of school accreditation for all of our schools will help us to raise the bar to meet our Great Expectations for success, providing the highest quality education for Rutland's young people as well as the enhanced level of accountability the taxpayers and community deserve.

1997 Vermont Business Roundtable Medallion Award

Living testimony to the excellent work of our staff is the very special Medallion Award, bestowed upon Rutland High School in 1997 by the Vermont Business Roundtable. One school in Vermont is chosen each year. Rutland High was selected for its Jan Plan (now Y.E.S. Plan) program and other educational improvements at the school. We are exceedingly proud of the staff and students in all of our schools. Rutland City continues to be recognized for high quality education.

Finally, we believe that some form of public school choice is not only desirable but also inevitable as we prepare our students and schools for the 21st century. When that becomes a reality, let us ensure that all of Rutland's schools continue to be the schools of choice.

We look forward to working with you, the staff and the students in the Rutland schools as we provide the best possible education for our community.

RUTLAND CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS "REPORT CARD"

Introduction

There are many methods to evaluate the quality of schools. These include both objective and subjective measures in areas including: the quality and academic preparation of faculty, administration and staff members, community support and involvement in the schools, curriculum and instructional programs, assessment of student progress, student support services, library/media services, positive school climate, facilities and other related services.

The New England Association of Schools & Colleges (NEASC) provides a nationally recognized comprehensive evaluation/accreditation process that allows schools to be measured against an agreed upon set of standards that are indicators of school quality and success. All six Rutland City Schools took part in this rigorous process of self-study, reflection and evaluation in preparation for the arrival, in March of 1998, of visiting teams of professional educators who assessed each school to determine the degree to which we are meeting the Standards of Accreditation. We are very pleased to report that all five of our City schools as well as the Stafford Technical Center were awarded full accreditation status by the NEASC.

One of the most important Standards of Accreditation is the "Assessment of Student Progress Standard" in which we are asked to measure both individual and school performance. There are many ways to measure and report student progress on a day to day basis. Teacher observation, reports, tests, projects, essays, oral reports, work samples and portfolios are but a few examples. In addition, it is important to have the information that external, standardized tests can provide. Such assessments include the PSAT, SAT I, SAT II and the Advanced Placement Exams administered by the College Board as well as nationally developed norm-referenced and standards-based tests.

The results of the following three assessment programs allow the Rutland City Public Schools to provide the first "Report Card" to the citizens of Rutland.

Students in the Rutland City Public schools took part in three major assessment programs in the Spring of 1998, the Vermont Development Reading Assessment, the Terra Nova Multiple Assessments, and the New Standards Reference Examinations in Language Arts and Mathematics. There are several important purposes of these assessment programs. The primary one, of course, is to help individual students to learn, grow and improve their school performance over time. In addition, a varied and comprehensive assessment plan seeks to support the evaluation of programs, the revision and improvement of curriculum and instructional methods, the development of comprehensive professional development and the selection of new texts and other instructional materials.

The Terra Nova Multiple Assessments are norm-referenced tests. As such, they are designed to compare the performance of an individual student or group to another student or group by distribution performance across a normal curve. If a student is at the 66th percentile, this means that the student performed better than 66% of the students in the national group. The results of the Terra Nova tests indicate where our students stand in relation to over 650,000 students who took these tests nation-wide.

TERRA NOVA	Reading	Language	Math	Science	Social Studies
Grade 3:	48.0%	47.8%	59.2%	60.4%	50.1%
Grade 5:	61.8%	52.5%	56.0%	59.8%	58.0%
Grade 7:	57.0%	49.4%	52.0%	55.7%	58.8%
Grade 9:	71.6%	70.2%	69.3%	64.8%	71.4%

The Vermont Developmental Reading Assessment (VT-DRA) is an individually administered, standards-based reading assessment administered at the end of grade 2. This test determines the highest rate of text difficulty at which students read with acceptable accuracy and comprehension. In the VT-DRA, proficiency levels are: Achieved the Standard with Honors, Achieved the Standard, Nearly Achieved the Standard, Below the Standard and Little Evidence of Achievement.

- Achieved the Standard with Honors
- Achieved the Standard
- Nearly Achieved the Standard
- Below the Standard
- Little Evidence of Achievement

23%	24%
5%	7%
8%	8%

The New Standards Examinations in Language Arts and Mathematics are standards-based tests which describe student performance against a set of defined standards. Results are reported by proficiency levels which represent the degree to which the student has attained the standard. In the New Standards tests, these proficiency levels are: Achieved the Standard with Honors, Achieved the Standard, Nearly Achieved the Standard, Below the Standard and Little Evidence of Achievement. Rutland City and Vermont results are shown on the following chart. They indicate how well students in Grades 4, 8 and 10 are achieving the standards and compares these figures to all students in Vermont.

Marble Valley Regional Transit District, "The Bus"

Lawrence A. Dreier, Administrator

Christopher Louras, City Representative

Marble Valley Regional Transit District (MVRTD), generally known as "The Bus" is entering into its 23rd year of service to the residents of the greater Rutland area. MVRTD is the largest non-urban public transportation system in the State of Vermont and as such provides transportation to the general public throughout Rutland County, as well as to Social and Human Service Agencies, schools, resort community and area businesses. MVRTD provides an enhanced level of self-sufficiency for the elderly, disabled, and transportation disadvantaged who rely on public transportation. MVRTD also serves a growing population who is committed to the environmental benefits of public transit use. MVRTD has become a valued asset to the communities it serves. System ridership, almost 700,000 rides annually, continues to rise substantially, from 175,000 just four years ago. MVRTD's fleet of 37 vehicles are all lift equipped and fully accessible.

Throughout its operation of the Rutland County portion of the Vermont Rideshare program, MVRTD has "saved" over 382,117 vehicle miles over the last 12 months by providing car pool options. This figure has increased by 167,117 miles from last year's report. Of the over 12,000 car pool trips arranged this year, 70% brought commuters into the City of Rutland to work. This past year the Rideshare program has initiated the first vanpool in the Rutland County through this service we have been able to save an additional 207,956 miles over the past 12 months, by providing this vanpool we have been able to allow Rutland residents to continue to work while giving them the ability to live and shop in the Rutland area.

MVRTD's transportation service to eligible Medicaid and Reach-Up recipients continues to provide approximately 30,000 rides this year. Complementary paratransit services are available for those individuals whose disability prevents the use of fixed route service.

MVRTD takes great pride in aiding in the Rutland region's economic growth. This is graphically marked by its effort in bringing the Multi-Modal Transit Center (MMTC) to Rutland. This transit hub will improve the quality of life and economic vitality of Rutland and all its residents and visitors to the region. The MMTC will provide a state of the art facility with seamless transportation linkages for all citizens. This initiative will provide Rutland and the region with a transit hub that will contribute much needed downtown parking, access to interstate bus and rail service, park and ride, continue the expansion of local bus transportation and fulfill a requirement of the Act 250 permit process for the Rutland Plaza. It is estimated that the transit center will open for business in December 1998.

In times of uncertain and expensive energy supplies, environmental issues, traffic congestion and high costs of road construction, public transit is becoming increasingly more important. We appreciate the financial and normal support of the elected officials and taxpayers of the municipalities that guarantee Marble Valley Regional Transit District's continued success. To find out more about MVRTD's services and see the progress of Rutland's Multi-Modal Transit Center, access MVRTD's web page at <http://www.thebus.com> on the Internet.

Rutland Free Library Association, Inc.

Paula J. Baker, Director

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen, Mayor and Citizens of Rutland:

A walk in the woods for a hiker reveals seed pods, rocks, tree roots—forest life close up. When the hiker reaches a summit the view is altered: the pattern of the landscape begins to emerge. A view from the plane overhead and pictures snapped from space capsules provide what is obscured from our human scale perspective.

And so it is with the activities the library has undertaken in this year. Singular events, when seen from afar, reveal a pattern of library response to a changing community. These changes, individually, might seem unremarkable, but indicate a slow, inexorable shift in the requirements of our local population. The evolutionary changes reflect, in large part, the increasing pace in the lives of our patrons and library users.

Two arenas of growth in library outreach provide particularly clear examples: 1) our efforts to reach and work with children and their parents and 2) our efforts to help people cope with the increasing presence of computers and information saturation that threatens to swamp them.

The first of these, the children, has been addressed in several new ways: daycare providers are able to pick up pre-packaged theme bags, filled with books; daycare providers can have a library storyhour person come to their site; we worked with RSVP in their Rutland Reads! initiative and assisted with Mother Goose series for new parents in Clarendon. In addition to these outreach efforts we re-worked the picture book room to make it easier and more user-friendly for parents on the go, including targeted displays and lists of good books on special topics such as death.

Technology at the library remains a tool, not the goal, but as more patrons use the Internet and clamor for training, we have responded in several ways, building on work of previous years: we were the first public location of a short-lived local databank, Community 2000; we have set up our own homepage at (<http://rutlandhs.k12.vt.us/rutlandfree/rfl> home.htm) where programs are listed, board policies are posted, and numerous links to helpful web sites have been inserted. We also set up free Internet classes, which were steadily filled all winter and which will resume again in the fall.

These efforts, along with the support of an emerging tiny library in Tinmouth and our continued computer linkage with Rutland Public Schools, indicate our commitment to helping readers and information seekers in the newly evolving ways they seem to be requiring. But throughout all of this work this past year we have tried to maintain the focus on reading and the reader. The board continued its fundraising work for more books, we sold tee-shirts to finance the support of reading programs for children, we ran a successful mother-daughter book discussion, continued adult programming and answered over 17,000 reference questions.

In short, more of our services are coming in new ways, many of them now out of the building. In the coming year the board and staff will be taking a closer look at our mission and goals to insure that the library remains responsive and flexible to changing patterns of community use and need.

Over 151,145 people used the library this year; the number of library card holders increased to 15,934; the Fox Room was used 360 times for library programs and by clubs and organizations, with attendance totals of 7,441 people coming to programs. The number of books circulated was 185,187, an average of 3,561 each week. Reference librarians answered 17,850 reference, research and referral questions in the past twelve months.

The library is a private non-profit corporation supported in large part by taxes (71% of our total operating budget) from the communities of Rutland City, Rutland Town, Mendon, Ira and Tinmouth. Trustees from these communities represent the concerns of the supporting towns. Daily operations are maintained by a hard-working staff, who have served an average of 12.4 years at the library and by just under 21 volunteers who contributed 2,101 hours of service last year. All of these efforts are further supported by and extended with the help of the Friends of the Rutland Free Library, who raise extra funds and help with programming work.

Rutland Area Visiting Nurse Association & Hospice

Ronald J. Cioffi, Executive Director
Mark Foley, President,
Board of Directors

To the Honorable Mayor, Board of Aldermen and Citizens of Rutland City:

This past year can be summed up in two words:

Challenges and Opportunities.

The challenges came as a result of the Balanced Budget Act of 1997 (BBA). The BBA has targeted home health services for a $16 billion reduction over the next five years. For RAVNAH, this means a potential loss of nearly $1 million of our $4.5 million Medicare budget. This loss could jeopardize our mission of offering home and community health services for all. With our mission in jeopardy, our challenge is to achieve a balance between cost pressures and appropriate levels of quality care achieving positive optimum outcomes.

The challenges RAVNAH faces due to these cuts also represent an opportunity; an opportunity to view ourselves in a mirror and analyze our systems and operations. We have and will continue to improve our performance from the flow of paperwork to the delivery of services in the home. We also view these challenges as an opportunity to strengthen our partnership with patients, their families, and their physicians to achieve the highest quality care. We will re-emphasize the importance of becoming as independent as possible by teaching patients and their loved ones the skills necessary to manage and direct their own care. We are committed to working and advocating for those whom we have been given the honor of serving.

Despite the many challenges RAVNAH has faced, we are proud to report on a number of successes we have achieved. These successes include:

- the expansion of our Support Services Program
- the restructuring of our finance department.
- continued development of our psychiatric nursing program

- expanded intake services for sister home health agencies
- the initiation of an Augmentative and Alternative Communication Clinic with our subsidiary organization Kids on the Move.
- the development of a Consumer Advisory Committee
- the most successful Annual Fund in RAVNAH's history
- formation of an Interim Payment System (IPS) Task Force
- successful accreditation by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Health Care Organizations (JCAHO)

In addition to the above mentioned accomplishments, RAVNAH has kept its promise to our community, a promise to provide medically necessary care to everyone, regardless of where they live or their ability to pay. We made this pact with the people of our community over fifty years ago and we intend to honor it.

We are extremely grateful for the town allocations, United Way funding, foundation grants and individual and corporate donations which have enabled us to continue offering medically necessary services and community programs to all Rutland City residents, regardless of geographic location or individual ability to pay. During 1998 we provided 63,329 visits to 970 Rutland City residents.

As a community, we are keeping people in their homes, where they want to be, despite illness or disability. We strive to keep families together and maintain each patient's sense of dignity and independence. In doing this, we advance our mission far beyond our goals of quality care, affordability and universal access and we thank you, the Rutland City community, for helping to make this possible.

Rutland Redevelopment Authority

Mike Henry, Chairman

Matthew T. Sternberg, Executive Director

To the Honorable Citizens of the City of Rutland:

Rutland Redevelopment Authority is pleased to present this report on activities during the 1997-1998 fiscal year.

The year saw continuation of work on several projects important to the growth of downtown. First, the multi-modal transit center rose from its foundations and started to take its final shape. Under the direction of Marble Valley Regional Transit District, work continues toward a year-end projected opening. Simultaneously, work began on the new Rutland Depot, designed to serve passenger rail traffic. Site acquisition was finished and tracks were moved to enable the depot to be built on the downtown side of the rails. Construction will continue through the summer and fall, with an opening expected by January 1999.

To the west of downtown, construction was substantially completed on the Spruce Street extension pedestrian way. Designed to provide—for the first time ever—a proper access from the southwest neighborhoods to downtown, the project includes new landscaping, lighting, and an attractive paved path. With an eye toward the future, the City assembled a right of way wide enough to accommodate a standard city street, should one be needed in the future.

In the area of municipal planning, the Aldermen in December approved a fully revised Master Plan. This five year plan outlines the City's objectives for land use, public facilities, housing, commercial growth and environmental and aesthetic issues. RRA was pleased to assist the Planning Commission and the Aldermen in the update of this important document.

Throughout the year, RRA continued to administer a variety of grant programs on behalf of the Aldermen. Work was completed under a major grant to Rutland West Neighborhood Housing Service to improve rental apartments in the downtown buffer zones, those older residential districts adjacent to downtown. The program originally intended to improve 30 housing units; it ended up repairing 48. Plans are underway to seek further funding to keep the program going. Also during the year grants were received from the Vermont Community Development Program to help the Rutland County Community Land Trust renovate several buildings on Royce and Hopkins Street. Another grant will fund construction of The Maples Senior Housing Project, a new facility to be built off Stratton Road near the hospital. Another major grant received was a direct special project appropriation from the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in the amount of $1.35 million for renovation of the Paramount Theater.

The coming year will bring exciting development. The new depot and transit center will open, work will start on the Paramount, and a major new housing project will start construction. Rutland continues to enjoy the benefits of the community planning carried out almost a decade ago. Indeed, Rutland has gained a reputation as the Vermont city that's on the move—truly On the Right Track!

Rutland Partnership

George Means, President of the Board

Richard J. Courcelle, Executive Director

To the Honorable Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and Citizens of Rutland City:

It is with pleasure that we submit a report on the activities of Rutland Partnership, the management organization of Downtown Rutland.

In 1994, Rutland Partnership commissioned a comprehensive market research study to provide strategic direction for the downtown, which has been an invaluable development resource. This information has been instrumental in assisting the recruitment efforts of private developers and gave Rutland Partnership strategic information to chart an effective marketing development course. By 1997, however, this information was outdated because the Rutland regional retail environment changed so much in three years.

This past year Rutland Partnership conducted a more comprehensive analysis of the regional retail environment than was done in 1994. The research included interviews with Rutland Plaza customers, a telephone survey of regional households, a survey of Downtown retailers, and an analysis of trade area retail sales, demographics and expenditure potentials. Based on this research, some of the challenges Rutland Partnership will examine and respond to in the coming year include:

- Developing strong, enhanced niche-based promotions and marketing programs which promote specialized market offerings;
- Enticing more of the 50,000-plus weekly Rutland Plaza shoppers to patronize establishments in the rest of the Downtown;
- Addressing problematic issues in the Downtown physical plant, such as streetscape elements, signage, pedestrian paths, etc.

The comprehensive "self-examination" of Downtown will lead to a better understanding of what growth will be to the Downtown's best interest. And it provides the framework for Rutland Partnership to develop strategic programs to strengthen Downtown's position in a highly competitive regional market.

Governed by a 12-member board of directors, Rutland Partnership has volunteer committees active in the areas of marketing, streetscape improvements, community relations and business development. In the past year Rutland Partnership continued to sponsor retail promotions, special events, and programs aimed at increasing tourist business in Downtown. Rutland Partnership is an active participant in the Crossroads of Vermont Partnership, the Rutland region's Regional Marketing Organization. We strongly support this united effort to market the Rutland Region as a tourist destination. Rutland Partnership also holds memberships in the Rutland Region Chamber of Commerce and the Killington Chamber of Commerce. We believe Downtown is best served when it is closely involved with other groups that work to promote the region.

We look forward to the coming year as significant new projects come online Downtown, including the passenger train station and Multi-Modal Transit Center. And we eagerly await the anticipated opening of the Paramount Theater in 2000. Great things continue to be in Downtown's future and Rutland Partnership is proud to play a role in them.

Regional Ambulance Service, Inc.

Paul Kulig, President, Board of Directors

Samuel J. Gorruso, City of Rutland Representative

To the Honorable Citizens of the City of Rutland:

We are pleased to present our 15th annual report to the Citizens we serve. Regional Ambulance Service, Inc. has continually provided emergency and non-emergency ambulance service for fifteen years. From 1983 to the end of this year Regional has responded to 59,539 ambulance calls. This past year, ending June 30, 1998, the service responded to a total of 5,602 ambulance calls in our 12 communities and an additional 1,440 paramedic intercept calls.

With the continued support of the citizens, our employees, and community governing bodies, we have been able to level fund or lower our assessment rate over the past 14 years. We were very pleased to lower our per capita rate by $1 to $5 per capita, a 16.6% decrease, for the next year. We extend our appreciation to everyone for their continued support.

Two new ambulances were put into service to replace older ambulances with over 130,000 miles of service on each of them. Six new state of the art Life Pack 12 Defibrillator Monitors were put into service. These defibrillator monitors have the capability of advanced cardiac monitoring, pacing, defibrillating and cardioverting cardiac patients. The replacement of vehicles and equipment is on an ongoing schedule.

Our motto "Serving People First with Pride, Proficiency and Professionalism" is demonstrated by our employees commitment to continuing EMS training. Each year training is given in Critical Care Paramedicine, Advanced Cardiac Life Support, Basic Life Support, Prehospital Advanced Trauma Life Support, Pediatric Advanced Life Support, Emergency Vehicle Operator, Bloodborn Pathogen and a variety of continuing edu-

Cemetery Commissioner's Report

Dawn Hance, Chairman

To the Honorable Board of Aldermen, and Citizens of the City of Rutland:

The Cemetery Commission extends its gratitude to Eleanor Elwert for her dedication as commissioner for the past three years.

This year Jim Northrop's Turf Two did an excellent job in grooming the cemeteries on West and North Main Streets. The cost was $4,095. However, for the first time, the mowing bid also included tree-trimming, re-seeding, filling holes and edging.

In May Michael Currie of Chester and his family held an impressive ceremony at the West Street grave site of his ancestor Edward Hinkley. The Hinkley descendants gathered to unveil his restored gravestone and to place a flag in a new flag holder. As a member of the First VT Cavalry during the Civil War, Hinkley fought at Gettysburg and Appomattox. He survived the War only to be killed by a train in 1868 at the age of thirty-two years.

Unfortunately, there are a number of Civil and Revolutionary War soldiers buried in these cemeteries that go unmarked by flags each year. The DAR places flags on Revolutionary War soldiers' graves and others if they have holders. It is the organization's policy to place flags only where there are holders. Over the years many of these holders have disappeared and will be costly to replace.

This situation certainly needs to be rectified. Some of these men gave their lives—all of them made sacrifices for their country. They certainly deserve a flag to honor their final resting places.

Hopefully some community-spirited organization such as the American Legion will assist in this project. Also the cemeteries are in need of some landscaping. Perhaps the Rutland Garden Club or local florists could add some colorful touches.

All persons who wish to be involved or who would like to make a donation toward the costs of the flag holders should contact:

Rutland Historical Society

Elaine G. Purdy, President

To the Honorable Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and Citizens of the City of Rutland

The old Nickwackett Fire House, home of the Rutland Historical Society, becomes busier with each passing year. Far from being a static repository for bits and pieces of Rutland history, the Society is steadily increasing its services to the community. Archival and research materials are available for public use during open hours Mondays from 6 to 9 pm and Saturdays from 1 to 4 pm. Special visits and tours are available on request.

During the past year the Society has hosted school, college and senior groups as well as organizations such as the Sons of Union Veterans. Genealogy researchers and tourists are regular visitors. Society members have participated in educational programs in City and Rutland Town schools. West Rutland students received assistance in setting up a web site of their town history. Speakers have also been provided for service organizations.

Exhibits during the year included: World War I experiences and art work of John P. Clement; Patch-Wegner history; the Bates House fire and the Strong family portraits and history. The Society's annual meeting in October featured a lecture on John Cain's architecture presented by Kathryn Brownell. During the meeting Carmine Pacca was honored for his exceptional service to the Society as host, guide, speaker and committee worker. Pacca's knowledge of early Rutland history is legendary.

Programs offered by the Society included: Ed Barna on Vermont's covered bridges; Donald Wickman on Vermont's Civil War flags; David K. Smith on native Vermont humor and Kendall Wild on the World War I journals of John Clement. A weekly summer program of big band music was introduced this year at the Godnick Senior Center in cooperation with the Recreation Department. Jim Davidson hosted and provided music from his personal collection. Davidson, who contributes countless hours to the day by day operations of the Society has been given the honorary title of Curator by an appreciative board of directors.

Four newsletters and four Quarterlies were published. Quarterlies included: "Charles A. Hayles A Man Out of Time" by Donald Bordeau; "John P. Clement, Personal Recollections of the Great War" edited by Kendall Wild; "The Civil War Diary of Charles B. Mead" edited by Elaine Purdy; and "The Pine Hill Stone Crusher and Early Stone Crushing Practices in Rutland, Vt." by Paul J. Crossman, Jr.

The costume collection has been catalogued, photographed and placed in archival storage. The Livingston Native American collection has been similarly documented and will be shown in a series of exhibits scheduled for the coming year.

In April the Society cooperated with the Vermont Division for Historic Preservation in erecting a site marker honoring Rutland native Martin Freeman, first black college president in the US. The site at 46 North Main Street was donated and landscaped by First Vermont Bank. The marker was dedicated by Mayor Jeffrey Wennberg; Dr. Russell W. Irvine of Atlanta, GA, who first recognized Freeman's importance; and the Rev. Robert Curry of Grace Congregational Church, UCC.

The largest expense incurred by the Society was for painting and preservation of the building's exterior woodwork.

As the Society approaches its 30th anniversary in 1999, long range planning has begun with a view to easing transition into a new era. A drive for increased membership and volunteerism will be conducted as present members strive to maintain the vitality of the Society and its mission of preservation and education.

Council on Aging, RSVP, One to One, Interage, and Foster Grandparents

To the Citizens of Rutland:

SOUTHWESTERN VERMONT COUNCIL ON AGING

The Southwestern Vermont Council on Aging, located in Building 14 at the Howe Center, is the private, non-profit community organization whose mission is to be a community force in making our region a good place to live and grow old. During the past year, 296 city residents were served by our Case Management program, 37,500 meals were delivered to homebound elders and 9,854 meals were provided to participants dining at one of our two luncheon sites in Rutland City Street.

Following is a brief description of some of the ways the Council on Aging serves elders residing in Rutland:

Case Management Program

Case Managers are available to provide personalized help to elders in need of program information, service coordination, application assistance or linkage with other service providers. Priority attention is given to individuals facing long term care placement.

Meals on Wheels

Meals are delivered, via contract, to homebound older persons who need this service to help them continue living independently.

Community Luncheons

Nutritious meals are served around the noon hour in a group setting at two locations in Rutland, the Bardwell House and the Godnick Center on Deer Street.

Senior Help Line

This service provides easy phone access to elders, family members and others in need of information about services and programs.

Health Benefits Counseling Program (HICA)

Trained Volunteers help elders with health insurance paperwork, claim forms, medigap policy comparison and long term care insurance information.

Peer Support

Seniors experiencing emotional stresses are offered support by volunteers who have been trained in listening and communication skills.

Community Development

This Council on Aging staff person works in partnership with community groups to identify elder needs and find local solutions.

Contracted Services

These include the Senior Law Project Attorney for Elders, the One 2 One Program and Elders on the Go for transportation and homemaker assistance through the Rutland Area Visiting Nurses.

Volunteer Opportunities

Driving for Meals on Wheels, helping at luncheon sites, being a HICA Volunteer, a Peer Support Volunteer or Case Management Assistant are some of the community service opportunities we offer.

One call to the Council on Aging at 786-5991 can connect you with any of our services or other community services by referral. Our services are available to all elders, 60 years of age and older, regardless of income. Although no fees are charged, donations from participants are appreciated and encouraged.

RETIRED AND SENIOR VOLUNTEER PROGRAM

The Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), the largest program of coordinated volunteer services in this area, is a nationwide program designed for people 55 and older who want to help meet community needs through meaningful use of their skills and knowledge in volunteer service to non-profit organizations. Placements are made with an eye to well defined community needs and the impact of the volunteer will have on his or her community. Outcomes of the placement are measured and documented as a method of accountability and for evaluation purposes.

Currently over 536 RSVP volunteers serve as mentors, advocates, library aides, tutors, receptionists, musicians, hospital workers, guardians-ad-litem, hospice workers, tax counselors just to name a few. They provide services in area schools, courts, nursing homes and at over 100 non-profit organizations, based upon community needs, their individual preferences and the needs of organizations. RSVP volunteers serve without compensation and can be reimbursed for mileage if it would be necessary in order for them to volunteer. In addition, all RSVP volunteers are covered by free, supplemental insurance while volunteering. In 1998, RSVP volunteers, over half of whom live in Rutland City, donated over 58,500 hours of service to our community. The cost benefit to our community in terms of services provided equals over $468,000. In response to an increasing need for volunteer efforts, RSVP has broadened its focus to include several; innovative programs: The Volunteer Center is now located at the RSVP offices. Here, volunteers of all ages are being placed in community services. As a result we now offer many inter-generational projects such as the Computers for Seniors Program which we sponsored last year with the cooperation of the Rutland City High School. This free instruction for seniors was taught by advanced Computer Science students from Rutland High School and was so successful that it will be offered again in the spring of 1999. As agencies are faced with budget cuts, volunteer services are needed more and more. Rutland Reads '98, a response to the American Reads Challenge that was put forth by the federal government, will place over 40 volunteers of all ages in Rutland City schools as mentors and/or tutors for the 1998-1999 school year. This year we are broadening our efforts to include a tutoring component which will be offered in addition to the very successful read aloud component introduced last year. Volunteers will work with K-2 grade students on a weekly basis with the goal of increasing reading levels. Additionally, workshops will be held to assist volunteers in their efforts.

We thank the voters of the City of Rutland for your support in helping RSVP continue to provide its services. We invite you to contact us at 775-8220 if you would like to know more about our program. Our office is located at 39 East Center Street.

INTERAGE

The InterAge program experienced tremendous growth during FY 98' Space and budget constraints had limited InterAge, terms of numbers of individuals served, hours of operation and the level of care which could be provided. During the past year, in an effort to create a system designed to improve the quality of home and community-based long-term care, InterAge launched an ambitious expansion project.

This project created the first Medical Adult Day service in the Rutland region, filling a longstanding gap that providers for the elderly long deplored. A particularly unique feature is that the social and medical model adult day services are offered at the same site, with social and recreational activities shared by both groups. As the needs of the clients change, they do not have to change programs to receive a higher level of care. The project is also unique in the fact that it joined together the resources of Grace Congregational Church, whose generous donation of a spacious, centrally located older home, played a key role in making this expansion possible, with InterAge and several project partners, (Rutland Area Visiting Nurses and Hospice, Southwestern Vermont Council on Aging and Rutland Area Community Services) all collaborating to build a better system of care for elderly, frail individuals with multiple needs.

During 1997, InterAge was awarded grants from the James T. Bowse Community Health Trust and the State of Vermont. The new site and the new funds, together with annual support from the United Way of Rutland County, the City of Rutland and the Department of Aging and Disabilities, has allowed the development of a Medical Model Adult Day Program.

In addition to becoming a Medical Model Adult Day, InterAge also expanded region-wide capacity, extended hours of operation, developed a drop-in/respite service and expanded support and educational opportunities for families and other caregivers.

InterAge is located at 6 Court Street, Rutland. The program operates Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. For more information please call 747-3587.

InterAge is a division of Rutland Community Programs, Inc.

ONE TO ONE

The One to One Program provides quality services to frail, handicapped and isolated elders residing in Rutland County. A group of dedicated volunteers provide essential transportation, telephone reassurance and friendly home visiting, allowing individuals the opportunity to remain independent in their homes for an extended period of time. During the past year One to One volunteers provided services to 270 individuals. A total of 1,872 rides were provided.

One to One office is located at 6 Court Street, Rutland. Office hours are Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. For more information call, 775-8219 or 775-4318.

GREEN MOUNTAIN FOSTER GRANDPARENT PROGRAM

They serve children with disabilities, those who are abused or neglected, and teen parents and their children. Foster Grandparents volunteer twenty hours each week at a variety of sites. These sites include schools, day care centers, correctional institutions include schools, day care centers, correctional institutions and hospitals. During the past year the Green Mountain Foster Grandparent Program utilized 70 volunteers, providing 68,000 hours of service to approximately 700 children.

The Foster Grandparent Program is a division of Rutland Community Programs, Inc. If not stated separately, any applicable overtime is included in total earnings.
